For aspiring Music majors

The California State University, East Bay Department of Music requires that all Music B.A. applicants must audition for entrance into the major. Applicants are being directed to contact the Department of Music to schedule an on-campus audition at 510-885-3135 or www.csueastbay.edu/music. Students who are unable to come to campus for an audition will be able to submit a video audition.

All applications for admission are reviewed by the Office of Admission and conditional admission to Cal State East Bay is granted to students who meet the admission requirements. To be admitted to the Music B.A. major, students must also successfully pass the music audition. If a student is admitted to Cal State East Bay but is not successful in the audition, they will maintain university admission; however, they will need to select another major. These students will also be able to participate in music classes and music-related activities available to non-majors.
